

Tabs FM

Tabs FM have been in business 14 years concentrating entirely on the development of their advanced Facilities and Service management software systems

There are many Facilities Management systems on the market, one distinct difference with Tabs FM is that we own, develop and support all systems entirely ourselves. This includes our Management Information System, our web based systems and our Tabs for Pocket PC mobile systems. There is no middle man with Tabs, this keeps costs down and also allows us to develop changes and additions quickly and accurately without having to call upon resource from external businesses.

Tabs have the policy of integrating all feedback and good ideas received from their extensive client list into their systems so that everybody can benefit from the vast experience this brings to our systems. As we all know, facilities management is enormous in its scale and scope. It is this policy that will help our systems to grow with the legislative and general requirements that appear from HSE and other bodies.

One other policy that Tabs was actually born upon, and continues to thrive upon is the policy of complete centralization of your business data. This cuts down on the duplication of data across disparate systems. It both helps with the input of information and the subsequent retrieval. Because all information is entered and retrieved using the same interface this cuts down on training requirements and stress because your team can locate all the information from one central point. As opposed to trying to remember which Excel spreadsheet holds the information or locating details throughout different applications. Our systems have the added advantage that IT departments like the idea of data centralization as it cuts down on the applications they have to support. It also cuts down on licence costs because it cuts down on application requirements.

The Tabs product is highly scalable from the very smallest business to the very largest. This is because all data is stored in the fantastic database engine namely Microsoft SQL Server. We appreciate that not all business will require all of our modules, therefore with Tabs you only pay for, and you only see exactly what your business needs at that point in time. However, it is always useful to know that in the event that your needs grow, due to our policies of total data integration, you may be just a phone call away from enabling this module inside of Tabs. Of course, any additional modules switch on will use all existing data where appropriate, saving a huge amount of time and effort.

You may also rely on Tabs FM to keep up with the latest advances in Technologies. An example of this is that we are currently investing in re-developing our mobile systems in the latest development platforms to keep up with the massive advances we are seeing in the hardware. These benefits will pass on to our customers free of charge for the software.

We run training courses in Cheshire for all our systems which are fully documented along with signed and framed certificates for each attendee. All courses are provided on a one to one basis with each client so that we may truly focus upon the requirements of the client. Courses are not watered down by having multiple clients present on one training course.

We have recently released several new modules to integrate throughout the rest of the Tabs system. These include many Health & Safety modules with online training and waste management and dedicated Permits to Work system.

Tabs as a product and a Business are both growing. We are making a name for ourselves within the FM industry. It's taken a long time, but then developing a quality, reliable product does take time and effort. Our plans for the future are big. Come and join our partnership and move forward with us.
